KAIPARA. RIVERHEAD.

AN EXPRESS MEETS the Steamer 'Gemini,' and RUNS DAILY, carrying passengers and luggage, to and from the above places.

S. STEPHENSON,
Riverhead Hotel.

At the Supreme Court civil sessions, the case of John Gibbons and the Kaipara Steamship Company, comes off. The claim is £2000 damages for loss of a foot torn off at the ankle, by being caught in a bight of a steamer's lawser at Riverhead wharf.

Mr. Messenger, who had been informed by his wife of the treatment she had received, followed them. It is said that Messenger struck Roach, and that thereupon Phillips hit Messenger with a bottle, cutting his face in a shocking way. The other man, Norman, then, it seems, stabbed Messenger on the back of the head with a knife, inflicting a severe wound. Messenger was then taken away by some persons who were in the house. Information was sent from Riverhead to the police that Roach was likely to come to town, which he did on Friday, when he was immediately arrested. Sergeant Jervis and constable Harnett, of the water police, then went to Riverhead, and reached Blake's bush on Saturday morning, where, from the descriptions they had received, they arrested Phillips and Norman, who were identified by Mr. Messenger at Lamb's Mill, and brought to town yesterday. The three men will be brought up at the Police Court to-day.

A RIVERHEAD MYSTERY.

MAN REPORTED MISSING. WENT BATHING ON SATURDAY

Information has been received by the police from Riverhead to the effect that Mr. Arthur Taylor, who was staying at the Riverhead Hotel, went for a bathe in the river on Saturday and could not be found subsequently. His clothes were discovered on the bank. Mr. Taylor could not swim. It is understood that he was employed at a city restaurant.

RIVERHEAD.

NZ HERALD, VOLUME LXIII, 19 JANUARY 1926

Sir,—“Barnacle's” recent interesting article on “Riverhead” has apparently awakened Rip Van Winkle, alias “Riverheadite,” who now finds that the name is to be changed to Forestdean (not Forestdene), and he is anxious to know where the forest is. Of course, one can forgive him under the circumstances not knowing that the Minister of Lands has decided on several thousand acres to be put into afforestation shortly. Also, perhaps “Riverheadite” by this time is aware that the convener of the public meeting is here, that he farms in the have recently at no land of GENERAL.

COMPETITION TOO GREAT.

As the result of ever-increasing competition by road transport and by fast launches, one of the longest-established of the Auckland Harbour steamer services is to be discontinued on Saturday, when the small ship Kaipatiki will make her final trip to Riverhead and Hobsonville.

MAN SERIOUSLY INJURED.

A MAN named Joseph Whanin was admitted to the hospital at half-past two o'clock yesterday morning, from Riverhead, where he had been attacked by a bulldog. On being examined and treated by Dr. Adams, of the hospital staff, both his ears were found to be hanging by mere shreds; his feet were lacerated and torn open; the nose was bitten through; he was severely lacerated above the right eye, the scalp was torn and lacerated, and flaps of the scalp torn away. Whanin had several wounds on the back of the neck, and lacerated wounds on the hips and lower extremities. He states that he was being worried by the dog for a quarter of an hour before help came, and he was rescued from the furious brute by
