

German in Berlin: accommodation

The language school DIE NEUE SCHULE can provide you with two possibilities for lodging during your language course in Berlin.

A carefully selected host family can be the ideal complement to your German course, because you naturally learn a lot more when you also have the chance to speak German outside of your course. In this case you would move into your own room in an apartment where not only you, but also the German host is living. This could be a single person, a couple, or a family. Sometimes several language students live with one host family. In either case, you will learn a lot about the country and the people, and you make new friends.

You can also live in our new private apartment, where you can reserve either a single room or a double room – for example, if you are coming to Berlin with your boyfriend or girlfriend. The apartment is centrally located and is well equipped (T.V., Wi-Fi). You would share the kitchen and bathroom with a maximum of two other students.
