Since 1990, Ndhovu has been a beacon of authentic safari hospitality, inviting guests to immerse themselves in the wonders of nature, on the banks of the Okavango River.

Ndhovu Enclave is the new addition to The Ndhovu Collection. Opened in July 2026, it is a peaceful riverine retreat, immediately adjacent The Ndhovu Safari Lodge, with views overlooking the well-known Zambezi Game Park (Bwabwata National Park).

The area is home to large game such as elephant and hippo and to more than 400 different bird species such as the black-crowned night heron, purple gallinule and carmine bee-eater – heaven for any ornithologist.

During the rainy season the area around the lodge is very often flooded; then The Ndhovu Collection is transformed into an island on the Okavango.

DRIVING DIRECTIONS

Ndhovu Enclave is situated in the north-east of Namibia, in the Zambezi Strip, on the banks of the Okavango River.

From Windhoek:

Travel along the B1 and subsequently the B8 until you reach Rundu in the Zambezi region. Once in Rundu, continue the directions provided below. Driving time to Ndhovu about 10 hours.

From Rundu:

Proceed eastward on the B8 for 200 km, then upon reaching Divundu, make a right turn (heading south) onto the C48 for 20 km. At the designated signpost for Ndhovu, make a left turn and continue for 2km following the elephant markers. Driving time about 2.5 hrs.

From Katima Mulilo:

Head westward along the B8 for approximately 315 km. Upon crossing the Okavango River, make a left turn (heading south) onto the C48 and continue for 20 km. Then, at the designated sign indicating Ndhovu, make a left turn and proceed for 2km, following the elephant signposts.
